Mrs. Mary Orenigo, Library Board Chairman (right) accepts check for $265.05 from Miss Bobbie Stephens, Service Chairman of Iota Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

The ingenuity of a group of ladies WANTING to do something for Belle Glade's Library, present and proposed, led away from the "gimme" habit of soliciting from the public.

TV was bought and enough tickets for a public drawing were sold to net the $265.05.

A number of young ladies benefited by the experience of selling tickets, worrying about the sufficiency of the total, and experienced the satisfaction of a job undertaken and completed.

The sorority is credited with effective good works; the Library benefits for its equipment and the winner of the color TV is enjoying it.

"Drunk" Allows Culpit Lesser Charge In Murder

Charles Spencer, 65, fired five shots in close range at Theodore Robinson, 41, of 416 SW Ave. B Place and missed three times. The two were effective — Robinson died at the Glades General Hospital shortly afterward.

Spencer, according to testimony announced that he was "going to kill you" after seeing an already overcharge of alcoholic beverage along with his victim.

Apparently Spencer had been imbibing "arguing liquor" and recalled previous differences with Robinson to the point of definite action.

Evidence by the police confirm Spencer's statement that he was "panty drunk," so the requirements for first degree murder conviction are met.

Spencer's original charge of first degree murder was changed to second degree, and he is awaiting the formal arraignment before the Bays of Justice.

Glades Roads No. 1 Priority At RDB's February 3rd Dinner

The Palm Beach County Resources Development Board is the most representative group of every area of the County because its Board of Directors is made of equal representation from the thirty five incorporated municipalities, with each Board member having one vote.

The largest municipality, West Palm Beach, has the same voice in the operation of the RDB as does South Bay. Other smaller incorporated areas have the same voice as does West Palm Beach, Lake Worth, Delray, Riviera and other larger communities.

The Board, has a history of undertaking those projects in the county affecting the greatest area, and/or folks.

Its record of accomplishments lists many completed projects of major importance, such as sponsoring the C & SF Flood Control District and its works, as well as many others of importance now operating.

The plan is to make this a month-long celebration with a variety of activities, with the PARADE on January 20th, and ending with the CIRCLE T RODEO of Indian town.

Cultural displays will include music of the barber shop variety to the Spectro-vox color-music which brings the life of color and sound to the garden.

The Board of Public Instruction will depict the present day activities in our public grade schools; Our own Junior College and Boca University (Florida Atlantic) will round out the modern day scope of education.

Four-H Clubs will actively depict the home-making arts of our high school curricula; and the dairy and beef potentials in our agricultural adaptation of

Eight Lives Jeopardized On Two-Lane Highways

Two auto mishaps involving eight persons, jeopardized the lives of all involved. One was on State Road No. 80, one of US No. 27.

A car driven by Edward Brown, 28, skidded on wet State Road No. 80, and after hitting two trees bounced across the road and off

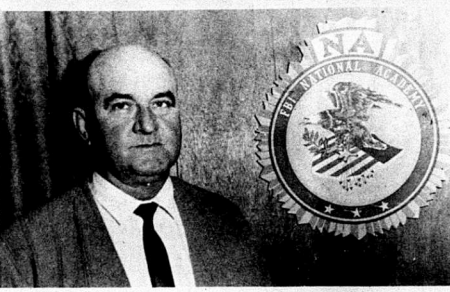

Four members of his immediate family were injured along with himself, but all five were released after examination and minor treatment at the Glades General Hospital. Brown's wife and 9-month-old son, his two-year daughter and his brother, Willie, 20, were passengers.

A Chattanooga based high way tractor is reported to have been some four feet in the parallel lane and a car driven by Orlando Valesquez attempted to pass.

Valesquez's car is pronounced a total wreck and he is being treated at the Glades General Hospital. He is reported in fair condition.

The driver of the truck, Grady Davidson and his brother, 16, escaped without injury. The driver was charged with driving on the wrong side of the road. A slightly different path of either vehicle could have meant immediate death or drowning.

Bolita May Be And Is Controlled

CHARLES GOODLETT, CHIEF OF POLICE

"We work gambling violators consistently — each week — throughout the year and believe we have them pretty well under cover or non-operating now," said Chief of Police, Chas. Goodlett, when asked how he controlled the much-discussed gambling in the Glades.

"Our records show that during 1965 we secured convictions in 120 cases of gambling in the City, with 43 of these involving bolita or lottery games, and we may have missed a couple of weeks where gambling arrests are made," the Chief continued.

Information on the fine for those convicted shows that for ordinary ski or craps, a fine of around $50 is assessed. Possession of bolita tickets brings a fine of from $250 up, depending on the evidence of mere possession by a player who has bought several pieces, or if there is support for suspicion of having them for sale.

Actual sales have recently brought fines of $500 and ninety days.

"That ninety days does a lot of good," says Chief Goodlett.

In the course of the interview with the Chief it developed that there is a continuous campaign on to usefulness has been about "shot."

The hospital reports Wednesday afternoon that Mr. Will's condition is "fair."

Continuous efforts in a campaign to slow down and gradually eliminate serious gambling in the Glades is producing results for the Police Department of Belle Glade, as disclosed by a search of the records and a discussion with Police Chief Charlie Goodlett of Belle Glade.

"We arrest violators when and where we find them, and we're looking for them all the time," says the Chief. "We are, however, more concerned with bolita and the lottery games because there's where the big money changes hands, and is the source of the corruption of peace officers" he continued.

Sgt. D. R. Pugs's resignation was officially accepted by the members. Commissioners in attendance were: Woody O'Hall, Marvin Davis, Mayor Coby Crews, Henry Elfers and City Clerk, Hubert Craig.

We Are For Him!

THE SOLDIER'S CREED

I am an American soldier. I am a man of the United States Army—a protector of the greatest nation on earth. Because I am proud of the uniform I wear, I will always act in ways creditable to the military service and the nation it is sworn to guard.

I am proud of my own organization. I will do all I can to make it the finest unit of the Army. I will be loyal to those under whom I serve. I will do my full part to carry out orders and instructions given to me or my unit.

As a soldier, I realize that I am a member of a time-honored profession—that I am doing my share to perpetuate the principles of freedom for which my country stands. No matter what situation I am in I will never do anything for pleasure, profit or personal safety which will disgrace my uniform, my unit or my country. I will use every means I have beyond the line of duty to restrain my Army comrades from actions disgraceful to themselves and the uniform. I am proud of my country and its flag. I will try to make the people of this nation proud of the service I represent for I am an American soldier.

School Prayers!

By Lewis Llewellyn
Voluntary prayers in the classrooms of our public schools have been declared unacceptable by the United States Supreme Court.

A group of parents in the Queens borough of New York City asked that their children be permitted to recite voluntarily a brief prayer of thanks for their food, when they were served milk and crackers or cookies in school. The request was denied.

When the case was taken to court, the first court ruled in favor of the parents. However, a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued a ruling against this voluntary prayer by the children.

The U. S. Supreme Court refused to review the case, stating that the New York authorities had "acted well within their powers in concluding that (these parents) must content themselves with having their children say these prayers before nine or after three" — that is to say, not while they are in school.

VIOLATING CONSTITUTION?

There are many who believe that the Supreme Court is violating the intent of the Constitution, if it is not violating the letter, of that document in ruling that pupils may not pray in school, even if they want to. The First Amendment to the Constitution specifically declares that there is to be no federal law prohibiting the free exercise of religion. Apparently, it did not occur to the men who wrote the Bill of Rights that there might come a time when the Supreme Court would, by its rulings, do what the Constitution forbade the Congress to do by law.

It has now become increasingly important that all parents take most seriously their responsibility — to God and to their children —

Farm Front

Food will lure some prosperous businessmen into a New York City hotel banquet room on the night of January 25.

The event will be a trade dinner highlighting Florida's Sixth Annual Spring Harvest Festival. Stressing "spring harvest" in January is our way of reminding our New York friends that most of the blizzard-season produce they enjoy is derived from the warm soil of the Sunshine State.

Not many more than 100 people will sit down to the feast. The majority will be retailers and wholesalers in the metropolitan market. The hosts will be industry and government representatives from Florida.

Put yourself in the place of a Florida fruit or vegetable shipper who has elected to take part in the event: You are proud businessman, confident in your ability to produce. But on this night, somehow, you're a little on edge.

The man seated across from you wears the same size collar, trousers, shoes—but it's difficult to shrug the feeling that he is, somehow, bigger all the same.

Actually, he represents a single company, as you do. But there's a telling difference. Your firm relies entirely on the operations of a single packinghouse for its existence. But the man breaking bread with you holds patents for a company which spreads its risks among and derives its strength from, say, 200 business houses.

As a matter of fact, your whole contingent from Florida is heavily out-weighted at the affair. Only a handful of packing and growing operations are represented directly, while the few dozen New York food dealers actually make key decisions for some 10,000 supermarkets.

And, as you look at that man in the eye, you feel that maybe you need him more than he needs you.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It'll soon be 70 years since I came into this world and as we get going for 1968 I look back on the changes and agree with Ed Doolie that we ain't handled a heap of them right.

For instant, ways of spreading news and getting acquainted with others has gone all the way from two women talking over the backyard fence to bouncing pictures off one of them things they got anchored in orbit. And the more we learn about one another, the harder it seems for us to get along together.

I bring this matter up at the country store Saturday night and Zeke Grubb was of the opinion then science fellers was the cause of it all. He said he could recollect when his next meal come from the garden patch, canned fruit and vegetables in the pantry, the chicken coop and the cow over in the pasture. But now, claimed Zeke, farmers and ranchers won't eat much that is home grown. They grow it and raise it, sell it and buy it back after it's been purified, pasteurized, homogenized, vitamin enriched, condensed, cooked, froze, preserved and filled with chemicals to keep it fresh tasting. It has got to the place, allowed Zeke, where peanut butter ain't even made out of peanuts no more.

Clem Webster was agreed with Zeke, said he was reading in his pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture where American farmers and ranchers could raise enough to feed the world and still go fishing two days a week, but they won't eat what they raise. A feller would think, claimed Clem, that bread was bread and milk was milk, but ever bakery and ever dairy made 'em different. Take the Irish potato, for instant, said Clem. A farmer sells 'em by the bushel, then he buys 'em back in little sallowe packs, all sliced up and fresh frozen. He pays more for a bushel of potatoes in the store than he got for 5 bushel in the field.

Bus Hookum was lamenting he had saw a piece in the Farm Journal saying agriculture production has went up 500 per cent in the last 35 year, but the farmer and rancher profits has gone down 10 per cent in the last 15 year. He claimed things has got to the point where farmers and ranchers got to sell what they raise and buy it back to keep the money spread out and going round to keep the country moving.

They ain't nothing in this world, Mister Editor, that can git as wet as the crying towel when the fellers at the store git together. Personal, I didn't say too much for the record on account of my old lady says she can buy a hen already killed, cleaned and cut up cheaper than she can bulldoze me into helping her raise her own.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

This Was The Year 1965

Palm Beach County's public school system has issued its first annual report. It lists the highlights of 1965 as:

1. The peaceful desegregation of the schools for which all Palm Beach Countians and their leaders were praised. The area's mass news media also came in for special commendation from Supt. Robert W. Fulton for their "fine, responsible handling of this event in a dignified, unsensational manner." The report points out that the program met the requirements of the 1964 Civil Rights Act of Congress.

2. The launching of the largest school building program in the history of Palm Beach County, is being financed mostly with funds from the bond issue voted by referendum in November 1964. Last year, $15 million worth of construction was completed, or placed under construction or in the active planning stage.

3. The reorganization of the Department of Instruction was completed under a newly-appointed Assistant Superintendent in Instruction (Mr. Charlie T. Council).

Most of the millage tax is budgeted for instruction.

AUTOMATION COMMENCED

Student membership in the county's 87 grades 1-12 schools rose by 2,000 over 1964 to 53,000. Automation of record keeping — in its infancy at the year's beginning — was extended during 1965. All 14 senior high schools (an addition of eight) plus four junior high schools were brought under the data processing grade reporting system, utilizing a computer which was installed at Palm Beach Junior College.

SURVEYS - PROJECTION

A detailed study of every facet of county school system was completed by 20 members of a special survey team from the George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. The report is expected about April.

A countywide re-survey of the county's school buildings problems and needs, with a 10-year projection, will be made by the State-Department of Education, starting this May. This will update, two years in advance, the 1963 survey which had a five-year projection. A combination of the Peabody report and State building survey will give the Board of Public Instruction firm guidelines for their reorganization and upgrading programs ahead.

ACCREDITATION LEVELS IMPROVE

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools fully accredited all 14 senior high schools in the county. However, the present county system has set its sights at all schools reaching at least Level II, in the three Levels of Accreditation.

The overall 1965 accreditation status "has been significantly improved during the past 12 months," reports from both the Southern Association and the State Department of Education have shown, "We still have far to go," Mr. Fulton said.

The Art of Arm-Twisting

A famous philosopher has advised us: "Never call a tiger to chase a dog. The tiger will give you more trouble than the dog ever did." In recent months Congress has been turning loose an unprecedented number of tax-tigers to chase away an assortment of real and imaginary dogs, some of which were pretty harmless.

Now that the members of Congress are back home again the voters are asking a lot of questions about this doghunt. They are appalled by the billions of dollars of their tax money that are being liquidated out so recklessly. They want to know whether their representatives are working for them or for the Administration's "thinker-uppers."

Some of the more candid of these representatives declare that the Administration's "or else" persuasion is responsible for loosing so many tigers. Indeed, they report that arm-twisting is becoming a fine art in Washington. Perhaps it is time the voters, who have foot the bills, realized that each member of Congress has two arms—and started practicing the art themselves.

John Edmunds

Political Liberty

While we talk so much of freedom for other peoples, we should take stock of the status of our own freedom. Is it a quality of freedom that rings true? Hardly! In one way or another, more people each day are being required to do what they are told to do by authority, authority that has its source in Washington. The growing voice of authority is inevitable because authority, federal authority, holds the purse strings. The existing prosperity of countless industries, businessmen, farmers, whole communities, is at the absolute mercy of those who award the contracts, the subsidies, the matching funds, or whatever you wish to call them.

As we enter the new year, there is one resolve that should be taken by all. A resolve that would end the spectacle of a great nation riding a crest of unparalleled power on one hand and on the other beset by a depressing morass of controls, inflation and a war. We should resolve that the constitutional system of government — a government of checks and balances as laid down by the founders of the nation — is the best kind or a government to live under; that the rights of private property and persons are to be held inviolate.

The political liberty of the individual is our most precious heritage. With that as a foundation, there are no obstacles that cannot be overcome — in peace or in war, in space or on earth.

Eastern Airlines

Rides Lots Of Folks

An all-time record for passengers flown to and from Palm Beach International Airport by an airline during one year was set by Eastern Airlines in 1985.

In revealing the new record, T. T. Sherwood, district sales manager, said Eastern flew 165,657 Palm Beach International passengers last year. This was 18,537 more than in 1984, an increase of 12.5 per cent, he said.

Looking ahead, Sherwood predicted 1986 will be another busy year at Palm Beach International, probably topping last year by a considerable margin. In anticipation of increased demand this winter, Eastern plans to add more flights between West Palm Beach and the north in February and March.

In 1985, Eastern also set a new record for passengers flying to and from the State of Florida. According to C. R. Mathews, regional sales director, Eastern flew 4,071,318 Florida passengers during the year, an all-time high.

Conservation And Beautification Is Possible Architect Emphasizes To Woman's Club Here

At the Thursday, Jan. 6th meeting of the Woman's Club of Belle Glade, approximately 50 members and guests heard Herbert Wilkenfeld, West Palm Beach, speak on the subject of "Can We Have Conservation and Beautification?"

Mrs. Ruth Barron Reported Alright

Mrs. Ruth Barron was resting comfortably Wednesday A. M. at Glades General Hospital where she was admitted about 6:30 Tuesday evening after swallowing a chicken bone, while eating her evening meal.

Suffering much pain, Mrs. Barron called a friend, Mrs. I. L. Price who took her to the hospital. After the doctor used a suction pump the sharp 2/4 inch bone which was lodged in her esophagus was removed.

Mrs. Lois Kahn On Buying Trip

Mrs. Lois Kahn left Wednesday, flying to New York for about 10 days for an annual buying trip, for spring and summer fashions. The Red Shutter is remodeling and adding lingerie and also a line of dresses and sportswear for the young matron.

Landscape Architect, speak on the subject of "Can We Have Conservation and Beautification?" Mr. Wilkenfeld pointed out that each of us, in his own way, has something to contribute to community and mankind, thereby we develop a better society. He stated further that "the man who is able to bring harmony between man and nature is the landscape architect." The speaker said the landscape architect, in his quest of "harmonization of man with nature" is confronted with problems, such as salt air, and blasting nearness to sea, cost of maintenance, weather problems and problem of conserving existing trees and plants.

Mr. Wilkenfeld emphasized that it is possible to have both conservation and beautification. Privacy can be conserved by proper selection and placement of plants. Conservation of view can be achieved, when an unsightly building adjoins, by camouflage planting to hide the unsatisfactory. Conservation of labor and maintenance is obtained when care is exercised in the choice of plants. The beauty of an existing building is often conserved and enhanced by the landscape architect's design. The planting in the median strips on our highways is an example of conservation of safety and at the same time beautification for the traveler. The parks in our cities and rest areas in our shopping areas are examples of conservation of strength and also beautification for those who stop to rest. Mr. Wilkenfeld said a landscape architect needs to be a mathematician as well, for often there are limited funds and a small number of plants wisely chosen and properly placed can be a thing of beauty. The speaker showed interesting color slides of his landscape designing in the local area and elsewhere in the state. Mrs. S. N. Knight, Sr., presided at the business meeting following the program.

Mrs. James Winchester presented the devotionals. Mrs. Chester Cone was Chairman of the program. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Junius Harris, Mrs. Addie Durst, Mrs. James Fraser and Mrs. E. D. Humphries.

The next meeting of the club will be held January 20th, and will be presented by the International Affairs Committee, Chairman, Mrs. Rudy Faulk, featuring a film and travel talk.

Your Library

Have you ever noticed? On the title page of your Library books, pencilled in along the spine, are such cryptic lines as this "1-4-66 Random House $3.00"

In glancing through some of thirty-one spanning new juvenile books, marked with just such a line, this critical observer found only one on which the '66 had been dubbed in over a tidy erased '65. A commendable average, for so early in this year, 1966!

Among the new juvenile titles are these:

DORP DEAD, Cunningham

There is no typographical error in this title. The name is DORP DEAD. For the upper elementary child, it is about a sensitive, but foxy, orphan, named Gilly Ground, who is apprenticed to Mr. Kobalt, a ladder maker, Sinister doings, here!

JOHN HENRY, AN AMERICAN LEGEND, Keats.

In colorful prose, the legend of John Henry, born with a hammer in his hand, unfolds for a young reader. The illustrations, by the author, are vivid ones.

SECRETS OF BIG LEAGUE PLAY, Smith.

Inside tips based on the know how of famous stars, to help a youngster play better baseball.

THE BATTLE FOR THE ATLANTIC, Williams.

This is a dramatic account of a fateful chapter in our history, securing of the Atlantic seaways for Allied shipping.

MEDAL OF HONOR HEROES, Hooder.

Sergeant York, Audie Murphy, Father O'Callahan, Butch O'Hare, and General William Dean are but five of the outstanding Americans whose exciting and inspiring deeds are recorded in this book.

Tax Requirement For Working Students

Florida students who work part-time or summers may have a refund due on their 1965 Federal income tax returns. District Director of Internal Revenue Schmidt explains that unmarried students who earn less than $900 will not owe any Federal income tax. They are entitled to claim the usual $600 personal exemption, plus a $300 minimum standard deduction.

Students are subject to the same Federal tax obligations as other taxpayers, and have no special exemptions. They are required to file a tax return if their earnings are $600 or more. They should file a return in order to obtain a refund when earnings are less than $600 and taxes were withheld from wages by their employers.

Students must claim their own personal exemption when filing a tax return, Mr. Schmidt said. However, parents who furnish more than one-half the cost of support for their child who is a full-time student may also claim a dependency exemption for the child on their tax return, unless the child is married and is filing a joint return with his (or her) spouse.

Students are subject to the same Federal tax obligations as other taxpayers, and have no special exemptions. They are required to file a tax return if their earnings are $600 or more. They should file a return in Improper use of the auger by an amateur can break the pipe and worsen the problem. If the tree roots haven't penetrated so far as to make cutting necessary, a chemical in some times flushed through the line to retard growth.

Rams Capture Tigers

Catchin' Up On The Sport News

Fighting for BGHS even during Christmas vacation, the Rams have built up a 6-2 standing for the season. Their game with J. I. Leonard the day Christmas vacation began, proved an easy victory and ended with a 59 to 22 score. Queen Wilson was high scorer for the first time in his first year at Belle Glade.

Christmas Tournaments were held the 21 and 22 of December. They produced both a victory and a disappointment. The Rams walked away with a score of 66 to 32 in their favor against Okeechobee.

However, Wednesday night's game with Pahokee was a bitter disappointment to the Rams who had hoped to capture the tournament cup which they have held since last year. The Blue Devils moved ahead in the first half and though Belle Glade scored 18 points to Pahokee's 10 in the final quarter, tying the score 46 to 46, Tim Gillis' free shot in the last six seconds made the score a heartbreaking 46 to 47.

Carey Jones stuffed in 31 points Tuesday night to lead Belle Glade to a 58 to 36 win. The Tigers were down only one point at the half, but the Rams got hot and ran off 14 points in the third quarter while the holding Clawson scoreless.

Belle Glade is now 6-2 overall, and 1-0 in the conference action. Tomorrow night the Rams play Stuart in the first home game since December 10. SEE YOU THERE!

Humans too are susceptible to this urge: "Something for nothing." These traps don't have to pertain only to money either. For example, is the sophistication of smoking worth the health "mouse trap" involved? Is being a part of the gang worth taking that drink and the risk that you may be the one in twelve who becomes an alcoholic? Everything has a price and even that "free cheese" is eventually paid for.

THE ROLE OF HISTORY In our history books lies the soul of the past; the achievements and makers of the past, who, when understood, can provide guidance for the future. Looking backward and evaluating what has happened is an important part of looking forward and planning for the future.

Gossiping Gandy

Wow, what a vacation!! After seventeen glorious days of loafing, I must return to my future duty of spying on the teens of B. G. H. S.

Can anyone tell me why Donna M. was playing "Cinderella" at the New Year's Eve dance?

I wonder what made Tanya C's Christmas complete? Could it have been that phone call from Va.?

It seems as though the wedding bells really chimed during the holidays. Isn't this a fact, Mr. Hayes and Mrs. Fieles?

I hear that someone had a flat tire on the road to Pahokee over the holidays! Wasn't it lucky that Brenda K. picked you up — Mary Kate P., Barbara W., and Janice W.???

Was there a white Christmas in Pennsylvania or Connecticut?? Dee Dee M. and Kathy B. could answer that question.

Christmas day was an exciting one for many; especially for Patricia H. when she opened her gift from Tommy T.

I was almost blinded by the glare of that diamond ring that Teresa W. J. has been sporting around. It must have been the thing to give her, eh, Mike M.?

The movies in West Palm were crowded to overflowing during the past three weeks. "Thunderball" was a sellout every night. Is this rumor or fact, Alice R. and Amanda B.?

It seems as though one can live on hope nowadays, or at least Brenda B. thinks so.

It has been rumored that Martha S. and Ernesto C. had a marvelous time New Year's Eve in Miami. What were you doing running around from hotel to hotel at 4 o'clock in the morning?

Do pictures last forever? I'm sure that if you see Libby W. she will tell you "yes." Those shots of Larry sure are heartwarming, aren't they, Libby?

That's all for this session, but remember — the roving eye and eavesdropping ear are always on the move; and YOU may be caught in the snare!!

Bone Mizell

The Cowboy Humorist

By Lawrence E. Will

JAN. 13, 1968 THE HERALD, Belle Glade, Fla. Page 7

Now, like I've said before, after spending weeks riding the prairies and the swamps, Bone loved to come to town and git most ungodly drunk. There was one saloon in Tampa which had a big front door. Here Bone would ride his horse inside to the bar and take his toddy while in the saddle. Once while in Arcadia, Bone had been playing cards and drinking with some buddies till it was near about day. Bone staggered out and stretched his self under a convenient cypress tree, for he didn't never crave for to sleep inside a house unless hit were a-rainin'. Bone's friends slipped over to the store of John L. Morgan, who was town's undertaker. They grabbed up a casket, put Bone inside, and toted him to the grave yard out by Joshua Crick. Beside a new dug grave they set him down, started a few screws in the lid and wedged the cover up a bit so he could get a little air. Then they hid behind the bushes and monuments for to let nature take her course.

Along about sunup, from long habit I reckon, Bone begun to come awake. Such a framming and a bangin' and hullaboo! them cow hunters never heard before. Right soon the lid come flying off and Bone rared up there in his box. He stared about-looked here, there and yonder, then saw that fresh dig hole beside his box.

"Hod dam!" Bone shut-out, "Resurrection Day! And Bone Mizell's the first one up!"

It seems as how one time, Bone Mizell was herding cattle over about the Kissimmee River. There came to this section a young city scaper from the north who craved to do some hunting on this particular range. This young buck's folks were moneyed people in Vermont, and the young fellow had been everywhere and done most everything, but hunting here was most extra good, so he settled down in Bone's camp and allowed as how he might stay awhile. But bless goodness, for some reason unknown to me, the boy taken sick and died. Bone buried him in a cabbage hammock far out in the prairie, alongside of a red headed cow hunter who'd got rattled-snake bit not long before.

As to what happened next, I can't tell it half as good as Mrs. Ruby Leach Carson, whose home was at nearby Lake Marion, and whose husband was the famous Cracker lawyer, Jim Carson, of Miami.

THE BALLAD OF BONE MIZELL

At Kissimmee they tell of old Bone Mizell
And the stranger who died on his hands;
How he died in the dry season, and that was the reason
He was buried a while on Bone's lands.

He was buried a while on that pine and palm isle
In a swamp under Florida's sun,
By the Cracker who nursed him, who loved him and cursed him
Just before his demise had begun.

Jes' take this news ka'my! Bone wrote to the family
The deceased had left living up North,
"I can send the remains when there come up some rains
And us pine island folks can go forth.

"So, providin' yuh ask it, I'll dig up the casket" . . .
Which was done when the season brought rain,
And the river could float the flat bottomed boat
And the dead boy travel again.

When Bone went with the coffin, he smiled much too, of'en
On the boat and enroute to the car;
At the train he said "Gimme — one fare from Kissimmee

Pvt. Groover Has Completed Training Course

PORT SILL, OKLA. (AHTNC) — Pvt. William Groover, Jr., whose parents live at 213 S. E. Seventh St., Belle Glade, Fla., completed advanced artillery training as a cannoneer at the Army Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., Jan. 6.

Groover, was trained to serve as a crewman in field artillery gun or howitzer units.

Training as a cannoneer includes maintenance of weapons used in field artillery. Instruction is also given in ammunition handling, storage and loading of artillery guns, howitzers and heavy machine guns and communications.

Groover also learned tactical employment of self-propelled field artillery combat vehicles and techniques of driving wheeled vehicles used to transport weapons, personnel and supplies.

The 22-year-old soldier entered the Army in August 1965 and completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

He was graduated from Belle Glade High School in 1961 and attended Palm Beach Junior College, Lake Worth.

Glades Students Get Degrees

Ninety-eight students were graduated from Palm Beach Junior College in the fall term, Dr. Harold C. Manor, college president announced.

There were only three graduates from the Glades Area for the fall session. They were William C. Weeks Associate of Art Degree, of Belle Glade, Robert William Real, AA Clevelston and Olga Marlene Batista, Associate of Science, Pahokee.

Although commencement exercises will not be held for the new graduates until the end of the winter term on May 3, all rights and privileges attendant upon graduation are granted immediately, Dr. Manor said.

A normally tight schedule made even more difficult due to loss of time by hurricanes, caused cancellation of commencement exercises in December.

Of the 98 graduates, 89 received Associate of Arts Degrees, and nine received Associate of Science degrees.

Yours will be tailored to fit smoothly within your income and circumstances . . . with easy monthly payments bringing you closer to debt-free home ownership! Nice? You said it . . . why not come in today!

Use Atrazine. Here's how.

When you see pellitory weed starting to grow, apply Atrazine 80W herbicide, plus a little surfactant. You'll clean out infestations of this winter annual fast and effectively . . . without hurting cane.

Atrazine is safe to sugar cane. It will not injure your crop when you apply it as directed on the label. And since it's non-volatile, there's no danger of drift to adjacent, sensitive crops.

Even though Atrazine has proved to control pellitory at any stage of growth, early treatment assures best results. With pellitory under control early, you grow more sugar cane per acre.

That's because Atrazine prevents pellitory from interfering with sugar cane tillering. Also, Atrazine helps make soil moisture and nutrients available for your cane, and not for pellitory weed.

So plan now to grow the maximum tonnage of sugar cane from each acre you plant this season. Just use Atrazine to control pellitory weed this winter.

"Wiglets"

There is the widest possible range not only in the styles of wiglets available today, but in the quality of hair, real or synthetic, and of choice in the price you pay.

In choosing a hairpiece consider those factors. What kind of hair: Hairpieces made from human hair are the most desirable, since the hair can be a blend to match both the color and the quality of your hair.

Which construction: The higher priced wiglets are usually handmade in what is called the "ventilated construction." This means that each strand is attached individually to the base, permitting the hair to be combed in any direction and allowing a variety of different styles from one piece.

In "machine made construction," the wiglet hair is attached to the base by a sewing machine — a less expensive and less consuming process than attaching hairs by hand. This method is used for synthetic pieces as well as for human hair.

Where you buy it: Wiglets are sold almost everywhere — in swank salons, neighborhood beauty shops, department stores, from mail order companies, or even at the five-and-ten.

How to attach it: Many wiglets come on combs that slide securely into your hair. For extra insurance, you can make a large pin curl directly under where the hairpiece is to go and secure with a bobby pin. Attach the wiglet with large hairpins threading them through the foundation and the pin curl. If your hairpiece is one of the larger ones, it may require three or more pins curls to anchor it.

How to set it: Place on wig stand and pin securely to base. Dampen lightly by brushing warm water thru the hair. Section off strands and roll up on rollers, as you would your own hair. You may add a light touch of hair spray after wiglet has been styled. There are special sprays made just for wiglets.

How to clean it: If your wiglet is made of human hair, use one of the special wig cleaning fluids, sold wherever wigs are. Pour into a shallow bowl enough to cover piece. Squeeze hair gently, so liquid goes thru. Then press between folds of a Terry towel, to remove excess liquid. Dry on wig stand. Within an hour, piece should be dry to wear or style. Most synthetic wiglets are washable. All you have to do is follow special directions that come with them.

The "Freshmen"

Lake Shore "Freshmen" are the seniors of the Junior or High School. They give good impressions for the underclassmen so that they can follow in their footsteps and be good leaders when they become "Freshmen."

They help the underclassmen with social problems because they are willing, understanding, patient and always prepared. They are prepared for other jobs also, such as, keeping the noise to a minimum on the corridors and in the classrooms, and keeping the campus clean and beautiful.

The "Freshmen" have good school spirit at games and parties and when it comes down to working, they really work very hard. The "Freshmen" motto is: There's a time and a place for everything.

FELLOW SCHOOLMATES:

I hope that each of you had an enjoyable holiday season and returned to school ready to buckle down and make improvements where they are necessary.

The old year has passed with all of its problems, disappointments & those elated moments that will always be cherished by each of us. There is no time now for lamentation. We must expunge the past from our minds and concentrate more on the future.

To begin preparing for the new year, we should make new years resolutions. A resolution is the act or result of resolving something. It is a decision as to future action. We make new year's resolutions for the purpose of correcting those mistakes which were made in the past year and to begin planning for the new year.

Let's start the year off right by getting to school on time and prepared to work.

Strive harder to do better than all your subjects.

Be determined to be the best and to do the things which are right.

Be vigilant; ready to respond when you are called upon in the classroom, community and at home.

Strive to improve yourself as an individual and a future citizen of America.

Good Etiquette: Poise

Poise is to the present day what grace was to the nineteenth century. Poise means balance — a steadiness of mind, a stabilizer of all the forces that tend to make one emotionally upset. It is a natural gift. An inferiority complex is the greatest enemy of poise. It is the lack of calmness of attitude that gives a balanced outlook on life. Poise will give you the confidence you need to face the world on a firm footing.

The average person governs himself by what other people think of him. This may be all right if the spectators or judge is a sane, capable person.

You naturally want to appear at your best before others, but it is more important that you are satisfied with your conduct. As you seek the answer as to why your friends and enemies heckle you, you begin to understand them better.

You may never become a public speaker, but it is just as important that you be able to improve my grades. I've found that I don't actually know how to go about improving them. Will you please help me?

Resolution Maker.

Dear Resolution Maker, First of all you should set up a study schedule, after setting up this schedule you should stick with it.

Second, recite more in class and ask questions about that which you don't understand. But most of all I suggest that you study and

Advisory Committee Meets

The recently appointed Advisory Committee for Vocational Agriculture at Lake Shore High School met for the first time Wednesday evening.

Meeting with the committee were Eddie Williams, Vocational Agriculture Teacher, and Charles M. McCurdy, principal.

The committee discussed many ways in which the program of vocational agriculture might be more beneficial to the boys and the girls of the school.

Insights gained from the meeting seem certain to make the program in the school much more meaningful.

Members of the committee are Mr. Samuel Senter, Dean, Shelby Pouncey, Mr. Willie Clark, Reverend Joel

"The Tattler Column"

Well here I am again with some exciting news that will burn everyone's ears.

Barbara R. what happened to your peculiar, acting friend?

Lafranze S. is it true that you and a certain person had an argument over a certain young man?

Mattie R. what happened to you and Sylvester A.?

Did he find something better?

Rita B. It has been said that you're getting quite a few letters from your boyfriend.

Curtis P. How are you and a certain young Sophomore doing? As the old saying goes, "Old Love Never Dies."

Alton J. I understand that you and Gloria B. are courting strongly. Please don't make the mistake you made before.

Marvin G. I understand that you have always wanted to court a Senior. Well I guess you are satisfied.

Joe S. I see that since you and Annie M. broke up you have decided to go back to your old love. Oh yes.

Danie P. Are you trying to put Mary I. down for a certain young lady?

Ethel M. I understand that you and Albert H. are really courting. Keep up the good work.

Sharon B. whatever happened to you and a certain person? Did you break up over a silly old argument?

Gwendolyn R. with you and your friend ever make up?

Until the next time, keep your business to yourself. Because someone might kick in the newspaper. Ha! Ha! Ha!

work harder with greater determination to improve my grades.

As your teachers to help you. They are willing.

Dear Maggie, I met a boy over the Christmas Holidays, who is a dream. He is also a college man. How can I get my steady boyfriend off the hook without hurting either him, myself and losing the other guy?

Dear "Troubled" This college guy may really be interested in you if he takes up time with you. But I suggest that you keep your steady, because the other guy is in college. My reason for saying this is because, as a school girl you will need someone to escort you to dances, games and other happenings held at school. So forget about getting anyone off the hook. I'm sure your college guy will understand.

First Church Of Christ Scientist

"Life" one of the key terms through which Christian Scientists seek a deeper understanding of the nature of God, is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches. Other key synonyms for God to be taken up in succeeding weeks are: Truth, Love, Spirit, Soul, Mind.

"Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith," states the denomination's textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker "The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know is life eternal." The Golden Text is from 1 John and reads: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."

For And About Teenagers

THE WISE LETTER: "I am not too worried about my problem, but it has been on my mind for some time. I want to know what a boy that lots of girls tried to get, I knew it was no use for me to consider him, so I put him out of my mind. This summer was a waste of a party he attended. He was asking the rounds with all the girls, but he always came back to me. I didn't want to make him mad, so I just played along and acted as if I didn't care. After the party, there was a hayride. He was with me, which made me angry. He said, and they showed it. Later, I went to the skating rink. Two girls and I went riding with them and I went up with him again. Later, he called and invited me to go to the drive-in. I let him go, saying I had to be back at a certain time. I was late, but she said it was O.K."

OUR REPLY: He already knows that you like him. You would not have gone riding with him, if it should go steady with him. I don't trust him. Mostly, I don't trust the other girls. What special thing should I do to let him know I really like him without being obvious?"

SUSAN's mother is a wonderful cook. She'll teach her little girl all about dishes and dumplings and conserves... and about dozens of other skills that will help Susan to be a talented homemaker herself, one day.

WE pass on our own store of knowledge on to our children because we want to make things easier for them in the future. They will need all the preparation we can give them in order to cope with a life that grows ever more complex.

ABOVE all, we owe our children the opportunity to learn about their best friend, God. Awareness of His loving presence will give them confidence and courage whatever they do, wherever they go. Through regular church attendance, they can absorb the inspiring principles of Christianity... the most valuable recipes for modern living that exist.
